MOVING TO SPRING 2005

Register NOW!!

The largest annual gathering of Government executives is moving! After many years as a popular and significant Fall conference, the Interagency Resources Management Conference (IRMCO), sponsored by the General Services Administration, in partnership with PostNewsweek Tech Media and the Federal Chief Acquisition Officers, Chief Financial Officers, Chief Human Capital Officers, and Chief Information Officers Councils, is moving to May 1—4, 2005

IRMCO is The senior government executive conference that emphasizes significant and timely issues challenging the government across a variety of communities and disciplines. With its appearance in the Spring of 2005, IRMCO not only continues to bring executives together in dialogues on relevant issues, but will be well positioned to play a more important role in emphasizing guidance and encouraging involvement in the Federal Government planning process.

The 44th Annual IRMCO Conference, MAKING RESULTS REAL—the right time, the right place for government executives to get involved and contribute to government directions and priorities.

May 1 – 4, 2005
